hello, world

one   This is the first paragraph. Notice how the first line of the resulting paragraph lines up with the other lines in the paragraph.

        This paragraph had a long label. The first character of text on the first line does not line up with the text on second and subsequent lines, although they line up with each other.

        to use other glyphs instead of the bullet. In nroff mode using the ASCII character set for output, a dot is used instead of a real bullet.
